| ACCUSATION—False—by defaulting proprietors of estates sold for arrears of revenue against native Officers of a collectorate to decrease the validity or importance of sale of their estates. Board remarked that it has become a custom to bring accusations against the Officers of the functionary who makes the sale, a device which they believe to be resorted to merely with a view of obtaining more consideration for the allegations urged against the validity of sale ... .. | 12th Feb.         | 179-81  |

| A.—Whether a party holding one or more villages in a resumed mehal as a mokarari from the owner of the parent mehal is entitled, after the resumption of the latter, to engage as a dependent talookdar in the same manner as shikmedars holding lands under 100 beeghas in resumed estates. | Commissioner having solicited Board's instruction on these points, he was referred to section 19, Regulation VIII of 1793, with the intimation that each case must be treated by the settling officer according to its own peculiar merits, and the Board can give no general instruction, further than to observe that the position of mokararidar will not be affected by the circumstance of the tenure being more or less than 100 beeghas ... |                   |       |
| B.—If the one or more mokarari villages should comprise more than 100 beeghas , whether the mokarari should be settled with separately as an independent talookdar.                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                   |       |
| C.—Whether in both cases the owner of the parent mehal is entitled to the settlement with the power of ousting the mokararidar from his lands.                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                   |       |
