TRADE IN OPIUM—
That the Behar opium now provided is worse in quality than it was when first the Company assumed the monopoly ...		{ On revising all that has been said in regard to the—Board submitted pro- position to Government. }	19th May	6-8
That the eastern consumers both Malay's and Chinese have lost the confidence they hitherto had in the Company's mark to the great injury of the trade ...
That the comparative value at the sales in Calcutta and China is greatly decreased that the present system of contract has an obvious tendency to the adulteration of the commodity, and that it is very difficult or rather unpracticable to prevent the adulteration ...
That the price which the contractors receive from the Company does not, to the best of Board's judgement and belief, enable them to deliver opium which is not greatly adulterated ...
That if the present system of provision be continued, there is much danger of the opium trade to the eastward and China being much injured or wholly lost to the great diminution of the company's resources ...
That the English market is capable at present taking off from 60 to 100 chests of opium annually, and that it is probable that the sale may be extended ...
That the Behar pure opium is fit for medicine, and would be esteemed in Europe ...
That the endeavour to supplant with such opium the Turkish opium in the Europe market would in all probability fail ...
That it is advisable to procure the opium in future by Agency instead of contract ...
That it is advisable the opium sold by the Company should be of the quality best adapted for the markets for which it is intended as experience may point out. That if it be sold pure it should be declared pure, and that if it be anywise altered or compounded with other substances the alteration and composition should be known and declared at the time of sale, and the weight and the value of the material used for the envelope or cast of the cakes should also be declared ...

Radhanagore ... Rungpore ... Santipore ... Sonamookhi ...	Abstract statement showing the prices of Bengal and Coast Salt in these places during January, March and May 1795	17th Feb. 14th April 16th Dec. 13 19B 10
Board pointed out to Government that the average selling price of salt in the sale of March 1795, was Sicca Rs. 290-10-9 per 100 maunds, and that of May was Rs. 288-13-2 per 100 maunds
In fixing the price of Muscat salt, Board pointed out to Government that there does not appear to them any reason why the proprietor of the salt should benefit by the high price occasioned by the Company's monopoly; and that whether from the idea of real or supposed peculiar beneficial properties of this salt, or from the desire of maintaining friendly intercourse with the inhabitants of Muscat, the privilege of importing limited quantities of their country salt be continued, it is equitable that the owners be paid the same price as they could have sold the salt for previous to the monopoly	5th May	2-3 & 6
